12.10.20	BL-115	Great River Amazon River Raft Race - Peru This is very unique race - 180km and three-days in a self-constructed raft down remote sections of the mighty Amazon River. Teams have to build their rafts the day before the race at a local native village. Simon and Turbo are paired with a married couple with little race experience, and the team has three days to learn the ins and outs of racing in order to remain in one of the top spots.
12.17.20	BL-116	Trona 353 - California The 353 is incredibly difficult as there is severe climbing, heat and intense wind at that time of year. It's a 353-mile non-stop bike race north through some of the stark deserts of California. Turbo's brother joins the team, and struggles to keep his spirits high, while Simon pushes on and attempts to remain on course. 35,000' of elevation gain, and the reputation as one of the toughest but most gratifying endurance challenges available, bar none.
12.24.20	BL-117	Adventure Racing World Series - Costa Rica (part 1 of 2) The world series of adventure racing - this race takes us from the southernmost point of Costa Rica (on the Pacific Ocean) to the northern most point (on the Caribbean Sea), over 815km. They are pairing with their good friends, world-class adventure racers Liza and Pete, and competing against 65 other teams. Multiple disciplines will test Simon and Turbo's limits of sports - running, mountain bike racing, navigating, kayaking, white water rafting, rappelling and others. The race will continue non-stop for up to 10 days. The hardest such race in its class, with a massive $75,000 purse.
12.31.20	BL-118	Adventure Racing World Series - Costa Rica (part 2 of 2) The world series of adventure racing - this race takes us from the southernmost point of Costa Rica (on the Pacific Ocean) to the northern most point (on the Caribbean Sea), over 815km.
