

Episode Synopses for January 2022

Feed Date	Episode #	Synopses
01.06.22	IV-127	Most of us know, moving can be one of life's biggest stressers. What makes that even worse? Moving when you least expect it. Inside Investigations helps one woman get back her belongings from a storage company who is charging a king's ransom. Plus, when an erroneous eviction puts a stain on one man's credit report, Inside Investigations helps him get the record straight. And when a newly purchased trolling motor leaves one fisherman in dry dock, Inside Investigations gets him back on the water.
01.13.22	IV-117	After one man buys a hot rod, his attempts to register the vehicle reveals the car's shady past. But when the dealership refuses to help clear the way to make it legit, Inside Investigations exposes their customer no-service. And Inside Investigations discovers a defect on a gutter cover that's causing customers to question their hefty home investment. Plus, when grave markers at a cemetery are mysteriously damaged, one consumer goes undercover to discover what's causing cracks in the foundations.
01.20.22	IV-128	When one homeowner is oversold on a mold remediation job, Inside Investigations confronts the contractor and helps right a wrong. Plus, when first time home buyers discover they're new replacement windows are worse than what they had before, Inside Investigations brings in experts to evaluate the installation. And after a woman replaces all four tires, she makes a dangerous discovery down the road- it's a story every car owner needs to hear.
01.27.22	IV-118	When a woman hires a contractor she meets at a hardware store for home improvements, she finds out he's hardly the handyman he leads her to believe – Inside Investigations goes undercover to hammer the con-artist. And when a national retailer falls short on service, Inside Investigations leaps in to help customers left in the lurch. Plus, this could happen to you—a vacation rental company uses the Covid-19 crisis to justify no refunds, until Inside Investigations convinces them to re-think their decision.
02.03.22	IV-129	The U.S. Department of Justice is discovering that profiteers are taking advantage of our nation's safety net by netting money for themselves— Inside Investigations exposes one man's scheme. And we're taught very early to believe sticks and stones may break our bones, but words can never hurt us—not so thousands of Americans who started life with a label that was chosen for them. See how Inside Investigations makes a decades-long wrong, right. Plus, hear one man's beef against a fast-food restaurant.