10.07.21	#RSR-105	Tricked Out Tiny House            Mark and Maria Slaby have raised four great kids and been through several business ventures in their thirty years together. As empty nesters, they decide to downsize AND start a new business, as tiny house customizers. They buy a tiny house shell and create a very ambitious design plan with an elevator bed, wood paneling and an artistic dining table that captures the essence of their adventurous lives.
10.14.21	#RSR-106	High Rise Redesign            Patrick and Michael Tartaglione move to Florida from the Northeast for new job opportunities. They're thrilled with the warm weather, but want to make sure they can still enjoy the city lifestyle they love. They buy a large condo in the heart of downtown and spend more than a year renovating the space into an urban oasis.
10.21.21	#RSR-107	Fly New Coop            Pam Rogers is retiring after thirty years in the corporate world. To stay active and hopefully find a new stream of income, she buys a ten-acre farm. Renovating an old chicken coop to kick-start her egg business is just the beginning of a journey that brings lots of positive changes to her life.
10.28.21	#RSR-108	Flip            A veteran real estate agent rolls the dice and tries to rehabilitate an old house and then sell it.
